County To Get State Park

Jackson Ridge was officially accepted as the site for a new state park Wednesday morning when Perry Gibson, member of the Mississippi State Park Commission, presented a 99-year lease and a $2400 check for the first years' rental to James Travirca, vice-president of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

Although a five-year master plan has not been accepted by the Commission, Gibson said that the first phase of the project will entail on-site clearance and preparation. "This will be a major job," said Gibson, "but once this is completed, we can get started on creating a first class park for Mississippi."

In September the City of Waveland annexed the Jackson Ridge land after it was discovered that the Board of Supervisors could not lease 16th section land for more than 25 years if the land was outside of an incorporated area. Dr. John King, executive director of the Commission, told the board in July, 1972 that federal funding for the park would be impossible with a 25-year lease.

At that time, Dr. King also proposed that the Commission pay the county $2400 annually for leasing the land. This money will be turned over to the Hancock County School Board which has jurisdiction over 16th section lands.

The Commission has allocated $3 million for Jackson Ridge and preliminary plans call for campsites, a lodge hall and cabins, recreational facilities and possible a marina.

"Governor Waller is interested in upgrading all our state parks and creating new ones to attract tourists," Gibson pointed out. "This will be the only state park south of Hattiesburg and the only one with direct access to salt-water fishing."

Gibson also emphasized that the park would boost the economy of this area. "Because the park is close to Clermont Harbor, tourists and campers can take advantage of the boating and fishing facilities in that area," he concluded.

BRAVELY watching the pumpkin's smile, this young trick-or-treater proves that she isn't really scared by the strange looking masker at right, as her small companion nonchalantly licks a sucker in the middle. The three are pictured at the height of Halloween night festivities on DeMontmain street, where there seemed to be the largest concentration of witches, spooks, decorated houses, and, of course, children of all sizes.

Alcora Shortle

Bleeping and ringing, ticking and flashing, the computer has heralded the world envisioned by George Orwell in "1984" and by Aldous Huxley in "Brave New World".

Spitting out cards that tell you that your phone bill is $62.84, you owe Sprunkel's Department Store $312.56 and that your payment on your automobile loan is past due and it is important to maintain a good credit standing but if you have already made the payment, please consider this as our "Thank You".

Businessmen and merchants worship the computer because it keeps everything on a very detached, businesslike basis. After all, the average American consumer would find it difficult to plead with the IBM 6235 to hold off for a while because his daughter needs $1500 worth of dental work and his mother needed money that month to make her house payment.

No way. The computer sits on his throne, much like "The Wizard of Oz", huffing and puffing, responding only to electrical impulses not to human emotions.

Combine all this dehumanization with the frustration a credit-card carrier feels when he has already paid a certain bill but keeps receiving reminders—first pink, then blue, then yellow. He knows he's in danger when he receives a FOURTH AND FINAL NOTICE, white with a black border with an amusing skull and crossbones design at the top.

Needless to say, all this has had adverse effects on those who have been victims of the impersonal computer.

There have been reports of people who run screaming when faced with the prospect of opening their mailboxes. Others have been known to tear computer cards into little pieces and feed them to a trash masher.

Psychiatrists have labeled this new sickness and its violent side-effects as the "Do Not Fold, Spindle or Mutilate Syndrome". The illness has been mostly confined to Americans in the middle to upper-middle class income brackets.

Although a cure has not been found, there has been some breakthrough in a treatment where patients sit for hours listening to the sound of human voices.

But the future looks bleak.

One day, a very nice housewife will open an envelope and will read the following message:

"Because of your failure to pay your 1960 Income Tax, your name has been removed from the rolls of the human race. Until such time as we receive payment, consider yourself dead."

Hancock County Sheriff's Report

Two Waveland youths were arrested Friday night and charged with possession of marijuana when they were observed throwing objects out of a moving automobile.

Waveland Ptn. Eugene Hughes, Constable Sam Perniclaro and Sheriff's Deputies Fairley Necaise and Ronald Peterson were following Phillip Mollere, 18, and a 16-year-old companion as the two young men were driving on Farve St. in Waveland about 9:15 p.m. Police stopped the car when they saw the objects being thrown out of the car window, and with Mollere, picked up three marijuana cigarettes from the side of the road.

Mollere was booked at the county jail on possession of marijuana and placed under $2,000 bond. He was later released pending a hearing Thursday in Waveland City Court.

The 16-year-old was remanded to juvenile authorities and released to the custody of his parents.

Thomas S. Mitchell, 26, Kiln community resident, was arrested Saturday afternoon by Constable Terry Taravouille and Deputy Sheriff Larry Rester as Mitchell was driving on the Old Kiln Road, allegedly inebriated. A search of the automobile revealed a small quantity of processed marijuana and marijuana seeds.

Mitchell was booked at the county jail and charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and possession of marijuana. He was later released under $2,210 bond.

Experience does mean a lot in Congress.

Trent Lott has that experience.

In order to do his job effectively, a Congressman must know his way around Washington. The majority of his time is spent serving his district back home by contacting federal agencies, departments or commissions.

The cooperation of his party leadership, the administration, and the heads of the various federal agencies, departments and commissions is most important.

During the past four years as administrative assistant to Congressman William Colmer, Trent Lott has worked on literally hundreds of projects for the Fifth District and its people.

Keep this experience working for the Fifth District. On November 7th, vote for experience and dedication—vote for Trent Lott for Congress.

Chemist Warns Against Pesticides

By Jean Edwards
Neighborhood Ecology Center

Dr. Charlotte Taylor of Malibu, California claims that a lot of doctors are not acquainted with the symptoms of some types of pesticide poisoning, according to "Organic Gardening and Farming" magazine in an article by Floyd Allen.

Dr. Taylor says that a large degree of complaints such as feeling fatigued, depressed, irritable, memory lapses, difficulty in concentrating often go undiagnosed but can be signs of poisoning.

Dr. Taylor collects data on pesticide poisoning. If you have been poisoned by pesticides or know anyone who has, she asks that you send the name, address, some details and date of the occurrence to Dr. Charlotte Taylor, Sierks Way, Malibu, Calif. 90265.

This bright, young female chemist, wife of a physician, mother of one child, became firmly committed to her work against pesticides after a graduate student, whom she was working next to in the University lab dropped dead on the spot from inhaling a hydrogenated hydrocarbon, a first cousin to DDT.

Dr. Taylor says that dangerous pesticides are being used regularly by numbers of agencies, independently, with little idea of the total volume being applied in any given area, and that laboratory analysis for most pesticides are done for oral toxicity and do not consider contact or inhalation toxicity, or multiple exposure and are therefore not labeled with these factors in mind.

She is especially worried about the use of certain herbicides which cause chromosome changes in living things.

"When plants in their old neighborhood including some in their own yard began to grow peculiarly, such as looping down and curling around, they figured that they had better move out. And Malibu is the outer limit; that is, it is as far away as Charlotte's husband can commute back and forth daily," reports Floyd Allen.

At their new home Charlotte has developed some absolutely effortless methods of growing her own organic food.

She claims to be growing over 100 types of food plants at absolutely no cost except water. Charlotte picks up old half rotten tomatoes or whatever vegetable she wishes to plant from behind her local supermarket, takes them home and throws them around her Bermuda grass covered lawn and steps on them. She uses grass clippings for mulch and fertilizer and that is the extent of her gardening chores.

If you try gardening this way and it fails, then you haven't lost as much as if you had put a lot of time and money into it, but her yard is living proof that, at least for her, it does work.

Child's View Of The Telephone

The test papers of elementary school students revealed these discoveries on the scientific aspects of telephone:

"Many things about phones that were once thought to be science fiction now actually are."

"Thanks to picturephones, people can now hear each other visually as well as talkingly."

"The diaphragm is part of a telephone. Maybe it is the mouthpiece. Maybe it is the receiver. I do not know. It takes all of my knowing to know it is part of a telephone."

Students Respond To United Fund... Will You?

There were pennies, nickels, quarters and even some dollar bills.
What it all added up to was a $281.20 donation to the United Fund from the school students of Hancock County.
The students, ranging in age from six to 18, responded generously to this year's campaign. There was cooperation from school administrators and faculties. All this meant support for an organization which funds 12 agencies.
Although this year's drive will have to be extended into November and possibly December, United Fund workers will not stop until the goal of $24,000 is reached.
To date, the people of Hancock County have not been overly generous with their contributions. Only $9,000 has been pledged.
Some have given but many more donations are desperately needed to carry out next year's work.
The size of your donation is not important. More than 100 people have pledged to give a quarter a week this adds up to about $1200 each year.
Surely, most of us can afford one quarter a week. But if you can't, just one quarter will do. Anything to show that you are concerned about the welfare of others.
If you have not sent in your donation, please do so today.
Take a cue from the students... and GIVE.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

Now comes the zaniest Special Day of the whole year. It used to be that April Fool's Day held the title for ribaldry, but fifty years or so ago the kids took over Halloween and made it sort of an international spoof night on which older folks had to take part, whether they wanted to or not.
Nobody knows when or why Halloween started. Perhaps it was to poke fun at the seriousness of All Saints Day which followed it, just as Mardi Gras lets off steam before the somber period of Lent. Halloween was observed in England as far back as the Druid days and was treated with macabre relish over the long centuries when human lives were a dime a dozen.
Ghosts, goblins and horrid things that came out of the woodwork were standard components of Halloween. Children were frightened half out of their senses by the pranks of alleged adults and later they in turn tried to scare the grown-ups by impersonating the ghoulish characters that were supposed to roam the countryside on this one night of freedom for departed spirits.
Today the pragmatism of the times makes it difficult for both adults and children to accept as real the weird denizens of the underworld. But if you want to enter into the spirit of Halloween in your own home, this is a good way to do it with the help of your Public Library.
First, get yourself two phonograph records, the Danse Macabre, by Saint Saens, and A Night on Bald Mountain, by Moussorgski. The depicted skeletons cavorting over their graves and demons from Hades celebrating on the one night in the year in which they are released from their torments. Settle down by the fire and play these records as you read these three spine-chilling stories: The Hound of the Baskervilles, by A. Conan Doyle, the part of A Christmas Carol which describes old Scrooge's visit to Scrooge, and The Goblins Kidnap the Old Sexton in chapter 29 of Pickwick Papers, both by Charles Dickens. If the rain is beating on the windows and the wind is howling in the trees around the house, so much the better, for then you can hear more clearly the mournful howling of the dog and the rattling of the chains, and the gleeful cries of the goblins as they torture the old sexton in the cave under his churchyard. By the time you have finished reading and listening to the eerie music, we're sure that funnys cunctin in the kitchen will give you pause and that you will want all the lights on brightly as you go up to bed.

Halloween, they say, is for kids - that's why we all enjoy it. So let the mind dwell on ghosts and horrible creatures, get ready the cider and doughnuts and popcorn, and "make us children again, just for a night!"

Social Security Information

Disability is a hazard of life which every one wishes to avoid. It happens everyday to someone, somewhere. If a person becomes disabled by a physical or mental condition which prevents him from doing any substantial gainful work, and if a disability is expected to last at least 12 months, the person should file a claim.
If you meet both the work requirements and disability provisions, you should contact your local social security office for further information.

County Agents Notes

John W. Smith
County Agent
Hancock County

DAIRY HEIFERS
At this time of year your dairy heifers need special attention. Permanent pastures are rank and tough. Heifers simply cannot get enough to eat from this kind of grass, nor can they get the protein they need.

Winter grazing is not available in good enough supply yet to meet the needs of the heifers. To avoid weight loss and to keep the animals growing properly, they must be fed extra protein now. Feed around four pounds per animal daily of a high protein concentrate. Also provide trace mineralized salt and plenty of fresh water. The extra feed now will help your heifers grow and be prepared for the cold weather ahead.

Replacements for dairy animals are scarce and costly. The way to have them when you need them is to grow your own. Grow them right and feed them right for more profit.

SOYBEANS FOR 1973
You can do some things after harvest to your soybean fields that will make a big difference on your 1973 yields.

Apply lime before disking or breaking the land. A large percentage of Mississippi land needs lime for soybeans and it is best to get it in the soil during the fall.

Apply and plow down needed phosphate and potash on land that is not subject to erosion or prolonged periods of flooding.

Work heavy soils in the fall so that weathering and water absorption can improve the structure of the soil. This also makes for earlier planting in the spring.

Plow under residue and bury disease organisms. Incorporate Treflan or Planavin. Turn up and destroy Johnsongrass rhizomes.

SOYBEAN CYST NEMATODE

The soybean cyst nematode has become widespread in the counties along the Mississippi River and across the northern portion of the state. The cyst nematodes are not widespread in any county but are on isolated farms.

This nematode is soil borne and is generally spread through soil that clings to farm machinery and equipment and root crops. Birds, water and wind may also transport the egg-containing cysts.
The cyst nematode damages the root system of soybeans. Heavy infestations plus low soil moisture and reduced fertility can severely reduce yields.

The most practical method of control of the cyst nematode is to plant resistant varieties. Pickett and Pickett 71 are resistant to race 3 of the nematode. Pickett 71 is also resistant to phytophthora root rot.

If you plant a resistant variety continuously, race 3 of the nematode will change to race 4 for which there is no resistance. To avoid the development of a race 4, plant a non-host crop such as cotton, corn or sorghum. Follow with a resistant soybean variety. This should be followed with a susceptible variety.

If this is not practical, plant resistant varieties for two years only, then follow with a susceptible variety for one year.

INCREASE CONCEPTION
One of the most important things a dairyman can do to increase the conception rate in his dairy animals is to wait 60 days after calving before trying to breed the cow back. It takes this long for the cow's reproductive system to return to normal following calving. The recommendation is to breed the cow on the first heat period following the 60-day wait.

Inseminate the cow during the last part of the heat period. A good rule is that if a cow is noticed in heat in the morning, breed her in the evening, 10-12 hours after noticing the cow is in heat.

Spend some time watching

Home Makers Notes

HOW TO STORE PORK

When you see a particularly good advertised "special" you may want to buy an extra amount and freeze it for later use. Remember that storage time for pork is shorter than for beef.

Fresh pork may be successfully frozen from 1 to 6 months. Cured smoked products may be frozen for 1 to 2 months. Longer periods of freezing means that salt begins to become too strong, and the smoke flavor begins to fade.

Pork chops will maintain high quality at 0 degree F. storage for 3 to 4 months; roasts, 4 to 8 months; ham, 1 to 2 months and bacon a month or less. Cut large pork cuts into convenient sizes before freezing. Package chops and steaks according to the number of servings needed.

When pork or any other frozen food thaws in your home - by accident or otherwise - it is not always necessary to throw it away. If the food is safe to eat, it's safe to refreeze. If foods have thawed only partially and there are still ice crystals in the package, they may safely be refrozen. This partial thawing does reduce quality, however.

USDA's Agricultural Research Service gives these facts about refreezing: "A rise in a food's temperature up to thawing impairs color, flavor, and texture, and the refreezing period causes further loss in quality. No health hazard is involved if the temperature of the food has not risen above ordinary your cows for evidence of heat. It would be a good idea to do this for 10 to 20 minutes twice a day.

FRUIT AND NUT TREES

Now is the time to get ready for planting fruit and nut trees. First select the site for planting. Then take soil samples to determine lime and fertilizer needs.

Order your trees early so that you will have a better chance of getting the varieties you want and get high quality plants.

refrigerator temperatures (about 40 degrees). Food poisoning bacterial have never been found to grow at temperatures below 38 degree F., and they grow very slowly between 38 degrees and 45 degree F. Other bacteria can grow slowly at these or even lower temperatures; they cause off-odors and off-flavors that spoil foods but do not cause food poisoning.

For ordinary refrigerator storage, fresh pork should be stored uncovered or loosely covered in the coldest part of the refrigerator or in the compartment designed for meat storage. The temperature should be as low as possible without actually freezing the meat. Pork, prepackaged for self-service, should have the wrapper loosened before placing in the refrigerator unless the meat is to be used the same day.

CURED AND SMOKED PORK should be stored in its original wrapper in the refrigerator, not to exceed 1 to 2 weeks. Canned hams, unless storage recommendations on the can read to the contrary, should be refrigerated in the unopened can until ready to serve cold or to be heated for serving hot.

COOKED PORK should be cooled before storing in the refrigerator. After the meat is cooled, cover tightly to prevent drying and store in the coldest part of the refrigerator.

Trumpets In The Morning

by Perry D. Neal, Pastor
First Baptist Church, Bay St. Louis

"This week the column was prepared by Ronnie Hague, Minister of Music & Youth, at First Baptist Church, Bay St. Louis."

DO YOU REALLY CARE?

Several years ago, the religious world was "rocked" by a new form of music in the churches, called Christian Musicals. The very first Christian Musical was by a fellow Minister of Music, Bob Oldenberg, and was entitled "Good News". From the musical came the song, Do You Really Care? Which asked the pointed question directed to Christians everywhere, "Do you care enough to share yourself with others?" Jesus lived a life of sharing and taught us that we receive by giving. Strange, isn't it? Completely alien to what the world at large teaches, isn't it? He taught us that by sharing with others, we become stronger. What about that neighbor next door that you don't really like? Do you really care or is your life just a sham?

This week at the Hancock County Fair the youth of First Baptist are involved in an outreach ministry. These youths care enough to share their faith with others. Do you? We are commanded to - privileged to - supposed to - what about it? Do you really care?

CHAMBER REPORT
Saturday, October 28 a new business opened its doors in Waveland. Clark & Diboll Used Furniture Shoppe, 312 Coleman Avenue, owned and operated by Mrs. Betty Diboll and Mrs. Ruth Clark, features some new, but mostly used furniture in good condition, with a splash of antiques for interest. It is now official that the Mississippi Park Commission has accepted the Jackson Ridge project as the new $3 million park for the Gulf Coast, as authorized by House Bill No. 660, which granted twenty-five million dollars for renovation of old parks and acquisition of three new ones. At the present time, there is no State Park below the Paul Johnson State Park, north of Hattiesburg. This will give us the only park on the Gulf Coast for campers, etc., and it will all be in Hancock County.

The first year will be devoted to cleanup and site preparation. Over a five-year period, three million dollars will be spent in the development of this park. This certainly will be a boost to Hancock County.

Don't forget that the Hancock County Fair is going on now and will continue through Saturday, At 6 p.m. Saturday, "Miss Flame", sponsored by the Hancock County Firemen's Association, will be selected at the fair. This is only one of the many things going on, so be sure to attend. (Open each evening from 6 p.m. on.)

Anyone planning to attend the Sixth International Trade Seminar is reminded to have reservations in to the Hancock County Port & Harbor Commission by November 6.

Additional honors came to Pack 208 Webelo Den at a recent District Scout Camporee held at Vee Bar Ranch in Sellers, when Willett's patrol of seven boys took third place awards competing against 165 Senior as well as Cub scouts from throughout the district.

Members of Pack 208 have volunteered to participate in the Meals on Wheels program for Senior Citizens as a community involvement project, according to Mrs. Terry Feeney, Meals on Wheels coordinator. ## Eastland's number one. Mississippi's last.

The people of Mississippi have made Jim Eastland number one. President Pro Tempore. The most powerful. The second richest senator in Washington. We've made him number one and he has worked to keep the Mississippi working man and woman the poorest paid in the United States. That's wrong. Gil Carmichael can change it. November, 7th vote Carmichael for Senate. Mississippi can't afford another six years.

WE'VE GOT A GOOD THING GOING

What the South lacks in numbers in the nation's capital, we make up in strength. Thanks to "equalizers" like Senator Jim Eastland, whose position commands more authority for Mississippi than any number of freshmen senators could, the New South can look ahead to a truly great and prosperous future. Thanks to the influence of men like Jim Eastland, whose seniority is really beginning to pay off for us, the South is really "where it's at," in America today. We can forgive the Republicans this year for wanting to control the South's Senate seats. We've got a good thing going. Let's keep it that way.

Waveland Man Injured In Accident

A Waveland man was injured Monday morning when the pickup truck he was driving collided with an automobile at the corner of DeMontluzin and Nicause and then veered into a utility pole. Niles B. Miller, 67, of 205 Pine St. in Waveland was taken to Hancock General Hospital where he was treated for severe head lacerations and a skull fracture.

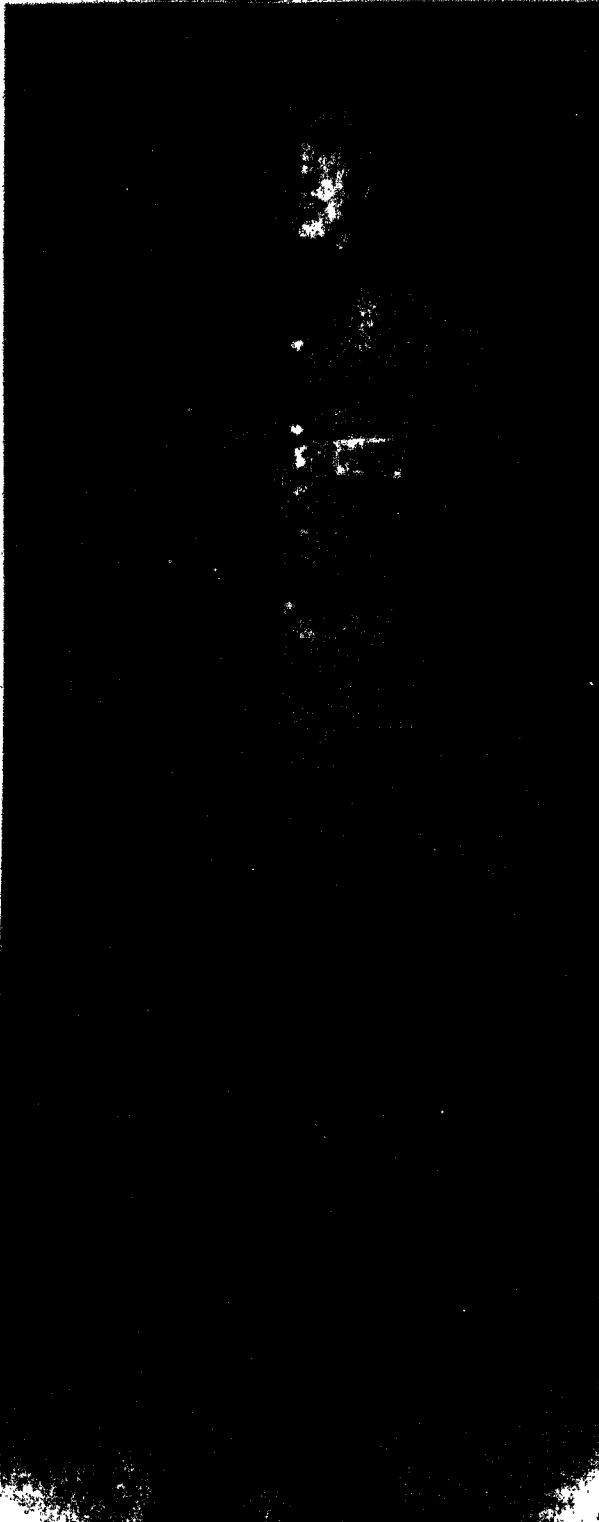

Driver of the other vehicle was John Derding, 31, of Diving Word Seminary in Bay St. Louis.

Perry Gibson, local manager of Mississippi Power Company said power was off for about one hour in the area of the accident and at the Colonial Plaza Shopping Center.

Investigating officer was Ptn. Harris Boudreaux.

According to official Mississippi state records, "the school children of the State selected the state flower, and no one else was permitted to vote. The election was held in November, 1900, and the children sent in 23,278 votes. The Magnolia received 12,745 votes, the cotton blossom 4,171 and the cape jasmine 2,464. There were a few votes for other flowers. The magnolia won and has been hence our state flower."

Taxpayers Rush To Beat Tag Deadline

Tuesday - the last day to buy motor vehicle license tags at the county court house. The tax collector's office staff, all veterans of the annual eleventh hour rush, moved rapidly and efficiently to take care of residents standing three-deep at the counter.

Money and license plates were exchanged at a rapid pace as the staccato beat of two adding machines working non-stop tallied the day's receipts.

By 5 p.m. miles of adding machine tape coiled all over the floor and the total collected on just Tuesday was $96,167.10. Monday's receipts totaled $22,672.07 - close to $50,000 collected in the last two days of the deadline time for buying 1973 plates.

Evelyn Turcotte, tax office clerk, said that in addition to tags purchased over the counter in the above two days, approximately 3,000 have been mailed out since notices first went in the mail. County tax assessor and collector George Heitzmann anticipates another 1,000 will be mailed out in the next week.

Stanislaus Has Easy Victory Over Rebels

Behind the fine running of halfback Rick Kergosien the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws defeated the Notre Dame Rebels of Biloxi Friday night by the score of 40-16.

Notre Dame scored their two touchdowns in the first half and were held scoreless in the second half. Stanislaus scored in every quarter. Notre Dame scored first with 10:22 to go in the first quarter when quarterback Randy Himmel handed off to Chris Bellman who took the ball in from the seven yard line, climaxing a 63-yard drive. The two point conversion, a pass from Himmel to Kevin Dougherty was good making the score 8-0.

Stanislaus scored with 3:27 to go in the first quarter on a 14-yard pass from quarterback Lance Oustalet to Rick Kergosien. The two point conversion attempt, a hand off from Oustalet to Kergosien was good tying the score at 8-8.

Saturday opened the hunting seasons on Squirrels and rabbits with good weather both Saturday and Sunday the two days that most hunters have a chance to go after the bushy and cotton tails. Squirrels and rabbits are good eating especially when cooked in a stew or fried.

About the same number of folks were fishing over the week-end with cooler weather on hand. Catches of speckles, red fish, sheepshead, croakers were reported at various spots. Bass are still being caught on underwater baits and by trolling. The water most everywhere is clear and the tides are falling in the afternoons which makes it ideal for fresh water fish. Red fish are being caught daily. Seems like there are more red fish this year than usually. There is no better eating than red fish, baked, boiled and even tenderloined and fried when small.

Something coming up of interest to most sportsmen is the annual St. Stanislaus Sideline Club's annual Turkey Shoot which will be held on Sunday, November 12, 1972 at St. Stanislaus Stadium, 11:00 a.m. High Lights will be Turkey Winners, 1,2,3, and 4th places. "Big Shoot" Special Trophy Award and awarding of 12lbs. Remington Shot Gun. There will be a General Shoot, 12 gauge Shotgun and Special Shoot with 410 ga. Shotguns. A full day of enjoyment and excitement with plenty to eat and drink.

One May day as I stood on Jack Wingate's dock on the shores of sprawling Lake Seminole in the Southwest corner of Georgia, I watched as they weighed 21 large-mouth bass. Seventeen of them weighed at least 8 pounds. It's obvious why this huge lake is popularly known as Georgia's big bass hole. Not only are the bass big, but everything about this artificial body of water is big. This was taken from the Cincinnati Bldg. Trade Journal. In our way of thinking it should be a wonderful lake to fish in and some big bass to catch. It is not too far from here.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Hickman are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Riggio of Sandy Hook Drive, Pass Christian Isles. The Hickmans fish and do crabbing, while the Riggos are ardent Bingo players. Al is a friend of Al Vetter.

Tom Scavo is retired and resides at Waveland. He said after quite a few years he is going to take up fishing. Got a lot of fellows in the same boat, Tom. When do you want to go?

Harry Brooks is a new comer to Waveland. He is a retired linotype operator and loves fishing. Worked for "The Times-Picayune." So did I Harry!

Morvin Fayard catches speckles at the mouth of Jourdan River. It is known better as the Mud Flat. Always some fishing at this spot. If they are running.

Know where there is a 16-foot Baloon Trawl if you need one. Call Doc Elliott for information, 467-6271.

Was sorry to hear of the death of Whitney Carvin's father last week. Mr. Carvin was one of our older fishermen.

Was invited to attend the St. Stanislaus Sideline. Supper last week. Was surprised when I was honored with a life membership to the Club by the members present. There were about 50 in attendance. Joe Benvenuti made the motion and it was seconded by Norman Benigno. Thanks for the honor, fellows.

Gus Aimes is president of the club, with Randy Adam, vice-president, while Brother Phillips is secretary. Treasurer, Motion pictures were shown of the Stanislaus-Bay High Football Game. The club meets every Tuesday night. New members are always welcome and solicited.

Charley Prest and Raoul Telhiard went after speckles. They got a few nice ones up Jourdan River one day last week. Both are good with the rod and reel.

Robert M. Sargent, Plant Controller of Eljer Plumbing ware Division Wallace-Murray Corp. was telling us of the 5 lb. 8oz. Spanish Mackerel he caught at Ocean Springs. It was among some others they caught. Bob is an ardent salt water fisherman.

August Perre, Jr., son of August Perre, who celebrated his 93rd birthday Oct. 10th takes behind his dad when it comes to catching fish, oysters and shrimp. August Sr. paddled us for years while fly fishing. August as we know him is still hale and hearty regardless of his age. Happy birthday old timer.

John Cannella, and son with Vincent Cucinello spend most of their weekends at Waveland where they have a home. John Cannella, Sr., spends his time fishing, catching anything that bites. Will make that trip soon, John.

Nick Schneider who is with the local Enameling Co. loves to fish. He goes on every occasion—and usually—brings home his share of the finny tribe.

The young folks had a ball on Halloween night, trick and treating. We know some folks who like to play tricks, but never treat.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK - W. Jack Herrington hails from Hattiesburg. Has a home in Shoreline Park. He is standing beside his boat which he uses to good advantage when fishing in outside waters. Does mostly salt water fishing.

Too early to know how the hunters came out squirrel hunting and rabbit hunting over the weekend. More on this later.

What makes hunters trigger happy this time of the year is to see marsh hens running along the bank, Paule Dean and ducks swimming in front of their fishing boats to know that they can't shoot'em. Seasons not open.

Did you know that food-for-waterfowl is a key factor in maintaining the population of ducks and geese. Among some of the grasses which are seed or rootstock are known as Cordgrass, Widgegrass, Muskgrass, Arrowweed, Smartweed, Pondweed, Bulrush, Spiderush, Wild Celery, Wild Rice and Wild Millet. They grow in different parts of this country. How many hunters do you think could identify these grasses? Not many.

There are 120 species of Ralls which are called Marsh Hens. Only 10 species occur in North America and of these, seven are considered game birds. They are good eating and only the breasts furnish enough meat for food.

A lot of salt water fish were caught out front over the weekend mainly along both the Highway and Railroad Bridge. Speckle trout, ground mullets, white trout and red fish predominated. Speckle trout and white trout were gotten mostly on plugs and Shad Rigs while fresh and frozen shrimp were used for fishing on the bottom. Speckle trout are moving in and with a little colder weather will be caught by casting and trolling in bayous, canals and rivers.

Want to make a correction: Micky Demoran, Arthur Miller and Carl Banderet said they had engine trouble and not lost in the marsh as stated in last week's issue. Sorry fellows.

MESSAGE TO BAY ST. LOUIS KIDS who use the city's many playgrounds. These public parks are for you. A gift from the city, which the city maintains. The city doesn't ask you to cut the grass, repair the play equipment or plant the trees, like the one above, to provide you shade. It would be nice, however, if all of you who use the playgrounds would return the courtesy by trying to avoid such things as this. If it was an accident, call city hall so Felix Seeger can maybe save the little tree. If some kid is swinging on it, make him stop. After all, it's YOUR playground.

Raccoon Enjoys Company... And Lots Of Attention

Rico, the mischievous male raccoon is the pet of Glen and Angela Rose and their four-year-old son, Glen Jr. of Bay Royale Apartments.

One recent afternoon Rico wandered down Rue de la Street and into the yard of Mr. Andrew Martinovich and made friends with three of his visiting grandchildren, Marcello, James and Chip. When the children went inside, Rico followed them into the house, climbed up into a chair beside the table and let the children feed him apples while he occasionally washed his hands in Mrs. Martinovich's glass of iced tea.

Because he showed no offense at being squeezed and patted by the children, the Martinovichs realized that he was probably someone's pet. Rico made himself at home too easily for his own good because Mrs. Martinovich gladly agreed when her son-in-law, Bubba Dear offered to take him to his house.

The raccoon spent the night at the Dear residence where he pulled several devilish pranks. He loved taking their telephone off the hook to hear the buzz. He opened all their cabinets and pulled out some belongings and he jumped into the tub to take a bath with Mr. Dear.

Meanwhile, Mr. Martinovich heard that the raccoon was a tame friend of Mr. Glen Rose, contacted him to confirm the ownership and Rico was taken home.

According to owner Glen Rose, he found the motherless raccoon along with two siblings in woods near Ansley, Miss. Glen brought the raccoon home and raised it on baby formula. Gradually it was weaned to dried dog food, and canned cat and dog food. Today Rico still eat most any fruit, vegetable or cooked meat, raw shrimp and even candy but his favorite food are bananas and grapes.

Rico and Glen Jr. frolic about together playing games and rough-housing. Although his paws are capable of inflicting a deep scratch, Rico has never attempted to hurt anyone.

All the tenants at Bay Royale are fond of little Rico and welcome his frequent visits. Sometimes Rico knocks on their doors in hopes of a handout or a little attention. One lady who lives there frequently invites Rico to swim with her in the pool.

After Rico learned to open his cage and get out, Glen decided to allow him to roam about the wooded area in back of the apartments. Now Rico comes out to visit whenever Glen whistles for him.

Rico is now five-months old, the age at which he would be leaving his mother if he were still with her. Raccoons are curious little creatures which make them sometimes undesirable as indoor pets but they are easily tamed and make good outdoor friends. As captives most raccoons live to be 14 years old.

Sometimes, in our busy world, we forget to enjoy the woods, flowers and the wild, but little Rico has come into our harried world and made many "housecalls" to bring that pleasure — "special delivery".

Colmer Ends Public Career

When the current session of Congress ended, William Meyers Colmer, who has served his district, state and nation with unexcelled distinction, concluded a career of public service that spans over half a century.

Mr. Colmer, who went to the United States Congress in 1922, during the bleak depression years, has served longer than any other Mississippian in Congress and ends his career as chairman of the powerful House Rules Committee and the third ranking member in seniority.

During his Congressional career, Mr. Colmer has served his constituents and his nation in depression and prosperity, in war and peace. The greatest compliment has already been paid to Mr. Colmer by the people of his Fifth Congressional District of Mississippi who on 20 occasions sent him off to serve them with resounding votes of confidence.

Throughout his career, Mr. Colmer has exhibited the hallmarks of a dedicated American. He is also a staunch southern conservative whose service under six Presidents has earned him respect and admiration from his colleagues of the United States Congress.

Mr. Colmer's congressional career involved many duties and assignments of trust and responsibility, but none more so than his chairmanship of the Special Committee on Post-War Economic Policy and Planning, a post he was named to during World War II.

It was this committee that planned the conversion of the nation from a war-time to a peace-time economy. The committee included a senior member of each of the major legislative committees of the House.

Mr. Colmer and committee members, following conclusion of World War II, spent weeks abroad studying political and economic conditions. During this period he personally interviewed the leaders of 13 nations, including Winston Churchill and Joseph Stalin.

A member of the Rules Committee since 1938, Mr. Colmer became chairman in 1967, and added to his reputation as a statesman and leader through his able leadership of the committee during the balance of his congressional career.

Born Feb. 11, 1890 in Moss Point, Mississippi, Mr. Colmer was destined to spend most of his life in a role of public service. During World War I, he served his nation as a soldier.

Earlier, he taught school in Lumberton, following graduation from Millsaps College in Jackson, and planned a law career after being admitted to the bar in 1917 but World War I intervened.

Following the war, Mr. Colmer had a brief period as a private citizen, opening a law practice at Pascagoula in 1919.

In 1921, he was elected County Attorney of Jackson County and was launched on a public service career that spanned 51 years. He continued as County Attorney until 1928 when he was elected District Attorney of the Second Judicial District, a post he held until 1933 when he was elected to the 72nd Congress.

Mr. Colmer, throughout his years in Congress, has served his people and his nation from the bedrock philosophy of strict adherence to the United States Constitution and sound fiscal policies. He has often described inflation as the "greatest internal" danger facing the nation and its people.

Soft spoken and courtly, he is known to his colleagues as a gentleman and a statesman. But he is also known as an industrious worker and unswerving fighter for his beliefs.

He is the senior member of the National Forest Reservation Commission, which is composed of three Cabinet officers, two members of the House and two members of the Senate. An indication of his long standing reputation in the Congress is that he was appointed to this post in 1942 by Speaker Sam Rayburn and has been reappointed in each succeeding Congress. His selection to chair the Special Committee on Post-War Economic Policy and Planning is another indication of the regard in which he has been held by colleagues and Presidents.

Mr. Colmer's career has spanned the service of Presidents Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman, Dwight David Eisenhower, John Fitzgerald Kennedy, Lyndon Baines Johnson and Richard Milhous Nixon.

Statesmanship and leadership have been the underlying foundation of his career, a career that has seen his home district move from the grip of the depression to one of the most rapidly advancing industrial and economic sectors of the southeast United States.

Awards and recognitions have been many, including the George Washington Good Government Society Award and the Watchdog of the Treasury Award by national organizations. Man of the Year honors at home have been awarded by the Mississippi Broadcasters and American Legion.

Mr. Colmer will soon return to his Pascagoula beachfront home with his wife, the former Ruth Miner of Lumberton. They have three sons: Dr. William Meyers Colmer, Jr. of Pensacola, Florida, James H. Colmer, a Pascagoula attorney, and Thomas W. Colmer, a commercial artist in Chicago, Ill.

Before You Vote - Read This!

Fellow Mississippians:

In 1968, I was the Coordinator for the 23 Mississippi Counties for the Wallace Campaign and in the First Congressional Primary of this year, I was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the U. S. Congress.

As a strong supporter of Governor Wallace, I wish to take strong issue with Ben Stone's attempt to identify himself as being supported by Governor Wallace in this Congressional Campaign.

I want to make this an open letter to Mr. Stone. Mr. Stone, I know that you will join any group, faction organization or cause for the sole purpose of gaining votes. As a Wallace supporter, to me, it looked like the last straw when you joined the Loyalists Democratic Party and signed the Loyalist Oath, in order to pick up a big bloc of votes in one swoop.

But you have outdone yourself now, Mr. Stone. Now you are trying to join the Wallace Movement and call yourself a "Wallace Democrat."

I went to Montgomery, Alabama, last week at the Wallace Campaign Headquarters to find out if you were in the same Wallace Movement that I have been participating in for the last few years. The Wallace people were quite surprised when I showed them news clippings of your activities and political leanings. Apparently, they did not know this when you invited yourself over to Montgomery and had your picture taken with the Governor.

The leaders at the Wallace Headquarters told me that you do not have the support of Governor George Wallace.

So, Mr. Stone, you are not a Wallace Democrat by any stretch of the imagination.

The Conservative Cause in this Congressional Race is represented by Mr. Trent Lott, and that is who I, along with all the other Wallace supporters, will be casting their vote for on November 7.

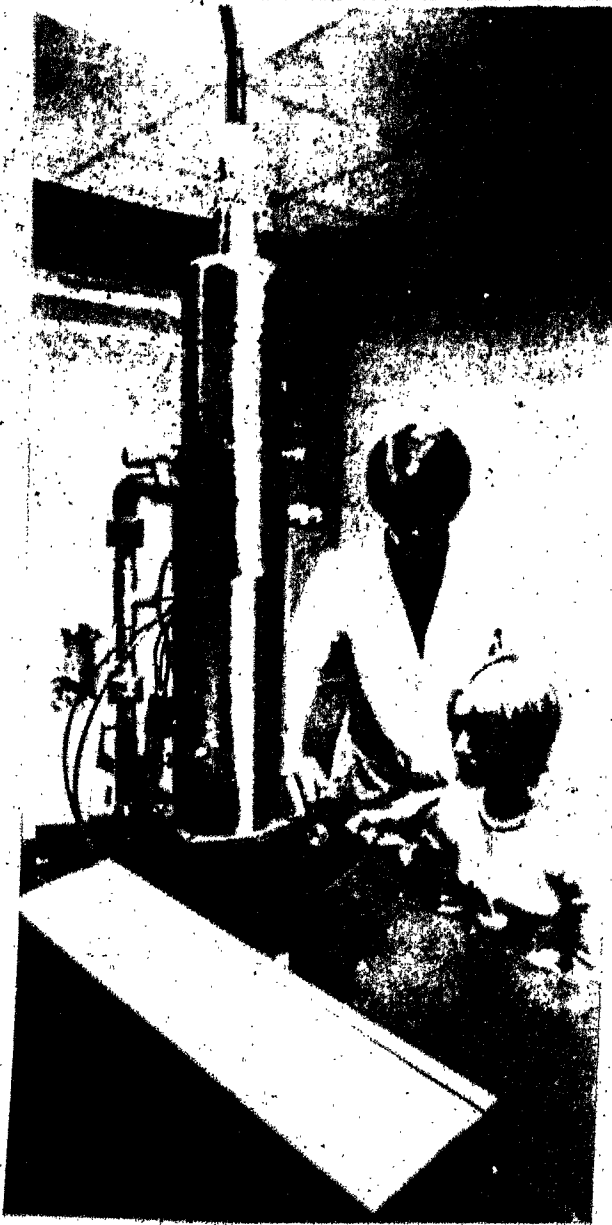

Sincerely

Charles G. Blackwell

Wallace Campaign Coordinator, 1968

VISUAL AID - University of Mississippi graduate student Larry Tillman of Bay St. Louis explains operation of the University's electron microscope to Kim Dungan of New Augusta. The instrument, recently acquired from Johns Hopkins, will permit expansion of research activities on the campus.

Ole Miss Acquires Electron Microscope

The University of Mississippi's first electron microscope, opening new areas of scientific research by faculty and graduate students alike, has been acquired from the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine.

The instrument is housed in the Biology Building, but Biology chairman Dr. Lyman Magee stressed that it is available to anyone on campus whose work requires use of an electron microscope. He added that the unit is standard, basic equipment in many biological sciences.

As a result of the installation, Dr. Iola McClurkin, associate professor of Biology, will offer a course in electron microscopy, probably in the Spring 1973 session.

Famous people are writing about themselves and each other this season. Remember the Lindbergh kidnapping? Anne Morrow Lindbergh is going to reveal the entire story of the 1932 kidnapping of her son, Charles, for the first time in HOUR OF GOLD, HOUR OF LEAD (Harcourt), coming this spring.

Anthony Quinn traces his poverty-stricken childhood and his stormy emotional life in THE ORIGINAL SIN (Little-Brown). Anthropologist Margaret Mead talks about her career and the men she married in BLACK-BERRY WINTER (Morrow).

Another look back... Louis Nizer digs deep into the famous 1951 Rosenberg spy trial in THE IMPLORATION CHAIN (Doubleday), makes the human trials of the Rosenbergs even more incredible than the legal trial. Arthur Schlesinger, Jr. is working on a biography of Bobby Kennedy (Houghton-Mifflin).

considering photographic enlargement. A great advantage, for instance, is that we are now able to see viruses.

Basically the electron microscope provides the beam of electrons to illuminate a specimen, forms an enlarged real image of the specimen, and then displays that image on photographic material.

Dr. Magee said he expected acquisition of the valuable instrument to stimulate intensive research in many differing fields of study at Ole Miss, and to attract additional graduate students to the University.

Trent Lott challenges his Democratic Opponent to tell the people where he stands!

Trent Lott has made his position crystal clear with respect to his party affiliation, his support of President Nixon and the Republican Party platform, and his conservative philosophy of government.

Now, the time has come for the Democratic candidate to be just as honest with the people of the 5th District.

Trent Lott believes that the people are entitled to some straightforward answers from the Democratic candidate to the following questions:

1. Did you serve as a precinct delegate to the Harrison County Loyalist Democratic convention Saturday, February 12, 1972, as reported in the February 13, 1972, issue of the Biloxi-Gulfport Daily Herald?
2. Have you signed a pledge to the Mississippi Loyalist Democratic Party?
3. Did you attend a National Democratic Party fund dinner in Washington, D.C. on February 3, 1972?
4. Did you not state that you would support the nominee of the National Democratic Party, as quoted in the July 11, 1972, issue of the New Orleans Times-Picayune?
5. If elected Congressman, would you sign a loyalty pledge to the McGovern dominated National Democratic Party?
6. Is it not a fact that you have accepted contributions from the McGovern-controlled National Democratic Party; and if so, what party loyalty commitments have you made?

Trent Lott believes that the people of South Mississippi should not be asked to "buy a pig in a poke." They are entitled to know where a Congressional candidate stands with respect to national politics, because your Congressional Representative is going to be serving you in the National Congress... not in Mississippi!

Trent Lott's position is crystal clear. Let us hear from his Democratic opponent?????

Let's Talk About Your Electric Bill

Your electric bills were probably higher this summer than they were during the summer of 1971. Hopefully, the following facts will help you to understand why:

A Long Hot Summer

U.S. Weather Bureau records show that temperatures during July, August, and September in the southeast Mississippi area were much higher than in the same three months last year, and this temperature trend continued into October.

This table compares the number of days last summer and this summer with temperatures of 90 degrees or above.

MONTH	1971	1972	% INCREASE
July	18	24	33%
August	21	29	38%
September	9	27	200%

The fact is, your air conditioning, freezers, refrigerators, and fans have worked harder and longer hours this summer than last, and you may have set your thermostats lower. This probably accounted for the largest part of the increase in your electric bill. Neither of us can do anything about the weather, but Mississippi Power Company does make certain that you have plenty of electric power to meet your needs for comfort during record hot summers like 1972. Some customers added appliances, also. And when you use more electricity, regardless of the reason, your bill is going to be higher.

The following table compares the average kilowatt-hour usage of residential customers in 1971 and 1972 and shows the cost of this increased usage. (We suggest that you compare the kilowatt-hour usage shown on your bills to determine whether you used more or less than the average.)

Month	Average Usage of Residential Customers 1971	Average Usage of Residential Customers 1972	Cost of Increased Usage
July	1165 KWH	1236 KWH	$1.09
August	1192 KWH	1294 KWH	$1.62
September	1136 KWH	1386 KWH	$3.77

Higher Fuel Cost

Another reason that your bills were higher is the steep rise in the price of fuel (natural gas, coal, oil, liquified petroleum gas) used at our plants to generate electricity. Inflation and the rapidly dwindling supply of environmentally acceptable fuels brought about this increase. Although this fuel squeeze has not adversely affected electric service in the area, it has increased our fuel costs. Since 1955, Mississippi Power Company rate schedules have contained "fuel adjustment" clauses. The clause provides that the cost to the customer of each kilowatt-hour consumed will be adjusted monthly to reflect upward or downward variations in the price of fuels used in generating electric power for our customers' use.

Application of the "fuel adjustment" clause resulted in the following increases in the average of the bills received by our residential customers in 1972 compared with 1971.

AMOUNT ADDED BY INCREASE IN FUEL ADJUSTMENT

July, 1972	August, 1972	September, 1972
$0.85	$1.17	$1.45

Rate Increase

By far the smallest addition to your electric bills this summer resulted from the rate increase put into effect July 1, 1972. This increase, which averages 4.3 percent above the previous rates, is being collected under bond, pending a decision on our filing with the Mississippi Public Service Commission.

As a result of billings under the new rates, the average residential bill rose as follows:

AMOUNT ADDED BY NEW RATES

July, 1972	August, 1972	September, 1972
60 cents	39 cents	42 cents

SUMMARY

The following table summarizes the above factors and shows the increase in the average residential bill in 1972 compared with 1971 before sales tax:

	July	August	September
1971 Bill	$18.83	$19.49	$18.62
Added by Increased Usage	1.09	1.62	3.77
Added by Fuel Adjustment	.85	1.17	1.45
Added by New Rates	.60	.39	.42
1972 Bill	21.37	22.67	24.26

During most of its history, Mississippi Power Company steadily lowered the rates charged for its service but within the last five years, the ravages of inflation have reversed that trend. However, the Company's average residential cost per kilowatt-hour is still well below the national average.

Mississippi Power Company is charged with the responsibility of providing highly reliable electric service to meet the increasing needs of our customers and to power the progress of a dynamic economy. To accomplish this, we must keep our financial structure sound to properly finance a record construction program. Our failure or inability to do so would ultimately result in a reduction in expenditures for facilities necessary for the rendition of adequate and reliable service.

We value our customers and will conduct our business in a way that will merit your continued support and confidence.

Sincerely,

MISSISSIPPI POWER COMPANY

We're Changing Our Look Like The Lady With The Brand New Wig —

Dear Friends,

Fourteen years ago this month, we formed our company and began operations as a retail building supply yard with lumber and heavy materials as our principal lines.

In January, 1969, we moved to our present location and discontinued the handling of lumber, concrete and steel products. We featured instead, an expanded line of interior finish materials, wall paneling, floor coverings, etc.

Now, as we begin our fifteenth year of operation, we are once more altering the image and product lines of our company. We have, in recent years, become more and more active in the field of floor coverings, paints and stains, wall paper and decorator building specialties of all types.

We find it advisable to pursue these lines and to phase out of the handling of hardware and tools, wall paneling, plumbing supplies, roofing materials, etc. In doing this we will be able to devote our full time and energy to better merchandising of a narrower line of products.

Effective December 1st, we will occupy only the Western half of the building we are now in, and we will offer to the homeowner public and to building contractors in the Western Gulf Coast area, the following:

SALES AND INSTALLATION BY OUR OWN SKILLED MECHANICS ON:

Armstrong Carpet and Vinyl Floors
Dan River Carpet
Margee Carpet
GAF Vinyl Floors
Flintkote Tile Flooring.

SALES ONLY ON:

Colony Paints
Wallpaper
Kichler Light Fixtures
Bathroom Vanities and Decorator Mirrors

Bath Accessories
Harloc Locksets
Light Bulbs.

We invite you to call us or come into our attractive showrooms when you are interested in new floors, wallcoverings or new color schemes. Nothing gives a lift to dingy rooms like a bright fresh new paint job.

In the meantime, the departments that we are phasing out offer some excellent bargains. Look over the closeout list below and come in and get some of these while they last.

We always appreciate your business.

Yours very truly,

Dave McDonald and Employees
